

Squatting Toilet

Product Code: ASP1

We supply a stainless steel squatting toilet which is used by squatting, over rather than sitting on. There are several different styles of squat toilets which all basically work in the same way. The toilet bowl is at floor level and the user squats over the toilet.

In theory it is possible to squat over traditional toilets, but this often leads to the user standing on the toilet, and risking injury to themselves or damage to the toilet or seat.

Squat toilets are used all over the world, but are particularly popular with the Muslim or Hindu faith.

This floor recessed squat WC pan is manufactured from 304 grade stainless steel for strength. The pan has a polished satin finish making it easy to maintain and clean and has non slip foot area for safety and ease of use.
